SHOPPING DINING TOURS ENTERTAINMENT

When life gives you Limburger, make a sandwich.

Back in 1931, Emil Baumgartner opened a store on the west side of the Square to sell cheesemaking supplies to area factories. Times were tough during the Depression years, and if customers were unable to pay cash, they paid with cheese. Soon Emil began offering customers a complimentary cheese sandwich and then a local brew to go along with it. And that is how the legendary Baumgartner's Cheese Store and Tavern was born.

An iconic landmark in Monroe, "Baumies" holds bragging rights as the oldest cheese store in Wisconsin. It's the place to go if you have a hankering for the quintessential Limburger sandwich—served up with mustard and onion on rye; a mint on the side.

MAIN STREET MONROE, INC.

Crimson and clover, over and over.

Tommy Jackson's first gigs took place in the "Blue Room" at the former Eugene Hotel building just off the southwest corner of the Square. As a middle schooler who sang and played guitar, Jackson entertained at the hotel that was managed by his parents. Later, he changed his name and added the band: Tommy James and the Shondells. Over the years, James racked up more than a hundred million records sold with his music featured in movies, TV shows and advertising campaigns.

Brewing up some history.

We started making beer right here in downtown Monroe way back in 1845. Take a tour at Minhas Craft Brewery to learn about famous brews of the past like Augsburg and Berghoff, and get a taste of the present with a flavored adult beverage like grape or rootbeer hard soda. Fun flavors of Blumer's soda pop for the kids.

Green County Cheese Days—since 1914.

Get ready to polka, yodel and eat cheese curds by the truckload! Oldest food fest in the Midwest—on the Square in downtown Monroe—third weekend of September in even years.
